7.1. Descaling

In order to prolong the product service life and to keep the boiling time as short as possible, the kettle must be regularly descaled (approx. once a week). We recommend an environmentally friendly descaling process using vinegar or citric acid:

Vinegar

- Add a dose of vinegar (ratio of 1:3) to half a litre of water.
- Leave the liquid to work in the device for approx. 1 hour; do not boil the liquid.
- Empty the water container and then rinse it thoroughly with clean water.

Citric acid

- Boil half a litre of water.
- Add approx. 25g of citric acid. Leave the liquid to work for approx. 15 minutes.
- Empty the water container and then rinse it thoroughly with clean water.

If you want to use a commercial descaler (chemical product), observe the instructions provided by the manufacturer of the product.
